

Gov. Fitzgerald Reviews Troops

GUARD HOLDS 3-DAY FIELD MANEUVER

Many Contingents Leaving Saturday

As usual Review Day for Michigan National Guard found a large crowd of visitors to witness this colorful event. Governor Fitzgerald and Maj. Gen. Guy M. Wilson and his staff officers watched each contingent of Michigan's guard as it passed in review before them. This was held Saturday afternoon. During the visit here by the Governor, Maj. George B. Ely of the 119th Field Artillery, and Capt. Frank C. Millard acted as his aides.

The annual Divisional memorial exercises were held in memory of the men of the 32nd Division who died in France. Major William P. Schulte, chaplain of the 125th Infantry, gave the main address.

Early Monday morning the organizations of the guard started out on a three-day field problem.

Tired, footsore but none the less enthusiastic, they returned to Camp Grayling Wednesday after the three-day field maneuver, conducted about 50 miles from the military reservation. Since the Michigan units have been motorized, a far greater area was used in the maneuvers than in prior years. Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, commanding general of the Sixth Corps Area, Chicago, conducted a three-day tactical inspection of the troops and expressed himself as highly gratified with the solution of the problem and the functioning of the regimental, brigade and divisional staffs.

The Red of enemy forces, were augmented by the addition of three pursuit planes from Selfridge Field, at Mt. Clemens, these ships attaining a speed of 240 miles per hour and virtually running rings about the slower observation planes of the 107th Observation Squadron. Units participating in the problem included the 43d Brigade, 119th Field Artillery, 182d Field Artillery, 107th Observation Squadron, two squadrons of the 106th Cavalry, 107th Medical Regiment and the divisional Special Troops.

On Saturday the homeward trek will commence, with truck trains leaving Camp Grayling daily for the unit home stations. Units of the 106th Cavalry and the 107th Medical Regiment will not entruck for their home stations, however, until August 5th. Grayling Kiwanian entertained last evening in honor of Kiwanis members in the military service. More than 100 attended the function.

Jas. McDonnell Appointed Postmaster

James McDonnell, who has been filling in the temporary position of postmaster since the death of former Postmaster M. A. Bates, has been officially appointed as Mr. Bates' successor. Confirmation of appointment was made just recently.

Mr. McDonnell, always a prominent citizen of Grayling since he first came here in 1916, has been in business for a great many years. He is a native of Bay City and for three years was the proprietor of a grocery store there. When he sold his store he became interested in the lime business, for which he was a dealer for some time. When he came to Grayling he found employment at the DuPont plant, which was just beginning to operate, working there until the plant closed.

To Mr. McDonnell goes the credit for establishing the first creamery that Grayling ever had, which was located in the same place that the Grayling Dairy is located. From the creamery business he went into the chicken business, establishing a poultry farm at the north edge of town and operating it successfully for some time. Last year Mr. McDonnell financed a peanut process plant at Muskegon, Michigan.

The Avalanche wishes to extend congratulations along with the best wishes of the people of Grayling.

MR. AND MRS. H. W. WOLFF RECEIVE GUESTS AT FARM.

The Wolff Farm hummed with activity as some hundred of their friends were informally received by Mr. and Mrs. Wolff throughout the late afternoon on Saturday.

Between showers the guests roamed around the farm grounds and along the bank of the AuSable river which flows through the farm land, while the 119th Field Artillery band played various selections for their pleasure.

Among the guests present were Gov. and Mrs. Frank Fitzgerald, General and Mrs. Guy M. Wilson and Bridge General and Mrs. Hemrick Pickert. Many of the guests were homecomers who had come to Grayling for the "Homecoming" and the Wolff Farm proved a delightful meeting place for all.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolff were, as usual, very gracious hosts and the reception was one of the lovely affairs of the week.

Attendance at the Frederic school will be increased by the consolidation of the three school districts of Maple Forest townships where the voters voted almost unanimously to join the Frederic school district.

William Beach, a former manual training teacher in the Grayling schools, has been engaged to teach that subject in the Frederic school.

The Edward E. Hartwick Pines Park

The Edward E. Hartwick Pines Park was presented to the State of Michigan October 5, 1927, by Mrs. Karen B. Hartwick, as a memorial in honor of her husband, Major Edward E. Hartwick, who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his country during the world war.

The park consists of eight thousand two hundred and thirty-six acres situated in Crawford county, six miles northeast of Grayling. Within its domain are eighty-five acres of virgin white pine, one of the last remaining stands of this history making timber in the state.

The donor was inspired by a number of considerations. Mrs. Hartwick was reared in the romantic atmosphere of a little sawmill town in the heart of the pines, the daughter of one of Michigan's most prominent pioneers in the industry. She keenly appreciated the potential value to future generations of this wonderful creation of nature. To preserve this last fragment of the millions of acres of white pine which once covered northern Michigan; to create a source of visual and spiritual enjoyment for the visitor; to implant in the hearts of Michigan people a pride in the timbered glory which once was theirs and an ambition to carry on the work of reforestation; to provide a memorial park for one whose career completely justified such an act; these were but a few of the prime considerations of the donor in making this epochal gift to the state. Her generosity was further inspired by the fact that Major Hartwick was reared to manhood among these pines; that his forbears were pioneers in the picturesque valley of the AuSable; that he loved and revered the towering trees which were his daily comrades. No more fitting memorial to him could be conceived.

The Salling Hanson Company, composed of Nels Michelson,

Two Injured By Motorists

Two Grayling citizens were seriously injured in highway casualties this week. Robert Ziebell suffered injuries to his face and head, when he was struck by a car driven by Walter Knowells, of Flint. Knowells is a member of Co. H 125th infantry, now in camp at Lake Margrethe, and the accident occurred near the intersection of M-76 and US-27, early Monday length and there was loud cheering as the procession wended its way from Mercy Hospital down US 27, where they swung over to Norway street and passed up Michigan avenue to the Tourist park.

Heading the parade was the 120th Military Band of the Red Arrow Division, carrying the colors and banner and followed by several companies of the same division. Following came the 119th Field Artillery band, several companies, army trucks carrying officers, machine guns and other army apparatus. The M.N.G. made a very fine appearance and themselves made up a lot of the parade. The music of their bands was very much enjoyed.

Gaylord, our city on the north was very nicely represented when they presented the same float as used at their Outdoor Festival. Seated on a throne was Miss Outdoor Queen Julia Allen and her five attendants, all in bathing attire. The colors of green, red and white made the float one of the prettiest in the parade.

Grayling Citizens band came next and as usual made their usual fine appearance. A conservation truck of the division of fisheries, representing Grayling Fish Hatchery came next. And then Charlie Ford in Egyptian attire brought out a round of cheers as he passed leading the Carnival Camel. Signs on the sides of the animal read "Both me and Charlie drink at Spike's".

There were eight trucks showing the various kinds of road machinery and other apparatus used in the construction of roads. These were the property of the Crawford County Road Commission.

"Chief Brand flooring" was properly advertised by Kerry & Hanson Company, with their float showing a real wigwam with several Indians seated on the ground outside of it. It was cleverly gotten up and made a hit as it passed in review.

Dan-Hoesli, agent, rode his Standard Oil Company truck and the State Highway Department was represented by one of their huge trucks. A ribbon festooned auto represented Blanche's Beauty Shoppe, and the next was a float showing an outdoor scene put on by local Boy Scouts, and was nicely gotten up.

Mercy Hospital was represented by its ambulance and Schoonover's Garage presented a Pontiac car.

Crawford Wood Products Company displayed a huge truck of mammoth logs. On a small decorated truck representing Parsons & Wakeley, rode several children singing one of the latest airs accompanied by a youngster playing a violin.

Shoppenagons Inn had a decorated auto and then there was a State Highway truck followed by a Chevrolet sedan and a large bus, presented by Alfred Hanson, local dealer. The department of conservation had another truck entered displaying the forest fire division.

Sunoco gasoline, sold at Calahan gas station, was entered, and Skingley's welding shop was represented. Hartwick Pines CCC camp had a fine float depicting the work in forestry that is being done.

Grayling Mercantile Co. had several girls throwing favors into the street from a decorated auto. Grayling Laundry was nicely represented with their truck decorated in bright colors. Grayling Kiwanis Club had a prettily festooned auto with a large letter "K" on each side, and Burke's Garage presented their Ford service car on which rode several bathing beauties, and Everett Desy, Ford salesman for the Burke garage in fireman attire was taking off "Ed. Wynn."

Polite-Berger carnival presented three of their miniature touring cars, and following was an attractive float of Sorenson's furniture store. This was a porch scene displaying lovely porch and garden furniture, with several young ladies enjoying their comforts.

The A. & P., Ole Hilltop Brew, Tivoli beer, Royal Linen Service, Sinclair Gas, and Pine Springs trucks all appeared in line. In their midst was a float entered by Crawford County Grange and they displayed a farm scene with several of the younger members of the organization appearing as farm help. It showed a lot of effort.

Last, but by no means least, bringing up the rear of the parade was the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps. They looked slick as whistles in their immaculate white uniforms and made a grand appearance, marching to perfection and playing the same way. They received hearty applause the entire route.

MAYOTTE-JORGENSEN WEDDING

Last Saturday afternoon St. Mary's rectory was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony when Miss Helga Jorgenson, daughter of Mrs. Rasmus Jorgenson, became the bride of Mr. Edward Mayotte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mayotte of Munising. Rev. Fr. James Maloney read the ceremony at four o'clock before an improvised altar of ferns and lighted tapers. As the wedding party took their places Miss Ingeborg Hanson rendered the wedding march. Immediate relatives and a few friends were present.

The bride was very lovely in a gown of delicate pink organza, cut low in the back and made with a full skirt that touched the floor. A hat of white horsehair braid trimmed with pink velvet and an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and baby breath completed her costume. Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Joseph Mayotte, was pretty in her wedding gown of white embroidered organdy, wearing a white horsehair hat and carrying deep-tinted pink roses. Joseph Mayotte, brother of the groom, was bestman.

A reception at Danebod hall followed the ceremony, with a three-course dinner served. The bridal table held the beautiful wedding cake, guarded by white lighted tapers in silver candlesticks. Bunches of garden flowers decorated two other tables and pink and white streamers were stretched overhead.

Those from out of town attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Warner and children, Dorothea and Frank, Benjamin Jorgenson, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jorgenson and daughter Betty Lou, Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Patch, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. George Schwartz, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Campbell, Fred Hanson, Mt. Pleasant.

Following the reception the bride and groom accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayotte, left for Munising for a few days honeymoon at the home of his parents, returning Tuesday. The groom coming to Grayling eight years ago and has been the efficient linotype operator at the Avalanche office during that time. The bride is proprietor of the Betty Mae Beauty Shoppe, and both have hosts of friends who extend congratulations and best wishes.

REFUNDS IN SIGHT ON '35 CHAIN TAX

Operators of chain stores in this county who were not party to the original chain store law, which was accepted a compromise payment for the chain store tax for 1935, will shortly receive a gift of some $34,000 from the state government.

The 20 migrants offered the state a sum which was exactly 64.19 percent of the total tax the state had sought to collect. The migrants thus saved about 38 percent of the 1935 tax. When the state administrative board accepted this settlement, it was the feeling of its members that those who had already paid their 1935 tax should be entitled to the same consideration.

Consequently, to the operator of every chain store system for which the 1935 chain store tax has been paid, a check for nearly 38 percent of the tax paid, will shortly be sent. As the state collected about $90,000 by this tax in 1935, the total of the refunds will be slightly more than $34,000.

An additional refund on taxes paid in 1933, 1934 and 1935, by operators of chain counter systems, has also been approved by the board. The 1935 legislature provided for lower rates of taxation for chain counters than for chain stores; prior to this, no distinction had been made between the two kinds of chain organizations. Thus, to chain counter operators who have paid their taxes for the three years the act has been effective, at the chain store tax rates, refunds of the difference between these rates will be made by the Secretary of State, official collector of the tax. These latter refunds, however, will be made only on application, and then after an investigation of individual claims for the refund. Application blanks will be mailed shortly to everyone who has paid a chain store tax, as shown by records in the office of Orville E. Atwood.

STATE COUNTY CLERKS TO CONVEGE HERE NEXT YEAR

At a meeting of the State Association of County Clerks held in the City of Pontiac on July 17th it was voted to hold their next convention in the City of Grayling.

This was made possible by the efforts of County Clerk Axel Peterson, who also had recommendations from Dr. C. R. Keyport, President of the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce, Dr. C. G. Clippert, President of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling and Mayor C. W. Olsen of Grayling.

Grayling being so centrally located and never having had the Clerks convention, was decided the Convention City. There was also applications from George and Emmet Counties.

County Clerk Axel Peterson wishes to publicly thank Dr. C. R. Keyport, Dr. C. G. Clippert and Mayor C. W. Olsen for the very kind letters they sent with him to the convention asking them to hold their next convention in this city.

WHOLESALE THEFTS OF THE HIGHWAY SIGNS.

Lansing, July 22, Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, made an appeal today for the protection of highway signs when informed of widespread vandalism throughout the state.

At the same time, Oscar G. Olander, commissioner of the Michigan State Police, announced that he had broadcast instructions to state troopers to launch a vigorous campaign against this type of theft and mutilation. He asked the cooperation of local law-enforcement authorities in the campaign.

Commissioner Van Wagoner has been informed of wholesale thefts and mutilation of state highway signs, particularly reflectorized signs. The commissioner said he believed most of the vandalism was the work of young people "who are merely trying to play a prank."

"The loss of one warning sign may mean the difference between life and death on a Michigan highway," the commissioner said. "I appeal to all our people that they do what they can to stop this thievery and vandalism."

RAIL TAXES 44% OF SCHOOL FUND.

States' Lines Through Levies Meet Year's School Costs of 82,005 Children.

The taxes of Michigan's railroads make up 44% of CRAWFORD County's share of the state primary school fund, according to a study by Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the Michigan Railroad Employees and Citizens League.

This county's current allocation of the fund totals $11,961.09, Drake explains, which is at the rate of $10.41 for each of its 1,149 school-age children. Of the $14,444,239.35 in the fund, the railroads through taxes paid $6,385,723.40, or a sum equal to 44% of the total. On this basis railroad taxes made up $5,287.83 of this county's share of the fund.

"The primary school fund is one of our state's most sacred funds and, basically, finances the educational currently of 1,387,735 Michigan children," Drake said. "Without this fund their education would be seriously impaired. The biggest contributors to the fund are the railroads, whose taxes by law go directly into it. Thus, of the $10.41 the state gives through the fund toward the schooling of each child, $4.58 is supplied from the railroads' taxes. Based on an average annual per pupil cost of $77.87 for education in this state, the railroads' taxes equal a year's education for 82,005 for our children. On the basis of rural school district costs, the railroads' taxes would meet the annual educational expense of well over 100,000 children.

"These rail contributions to our schools are further proof of the vital part the lines play in our economic life, a part now threatened by the competitive inequality the excessively regulated railroads are being subjected to by unregulated other forms of transportation, none of which, incidentally, contribute a penny to public education in this state."

Grant's Tomb

The corner stone of Grant's tomb on Riverside drive in New York, was laid by President Harrison on April 27, 1892, the seventeenth anniversary of Grant's birth. It was dedicated on the seventy-fifth anniversary. The cost was about $600,000, which was subscribed by 90,000 persons—none of it being paid by either the government or the city.

Owing to marked variations in atmospheric pressure, the surface of Lake Geneva, Switzerland, is not infrequently 5 or 6 feet higher on one side of the lake than on the other. The phenomenon is known as "the seiche," and it causes the lake to swing back and forth for periods upwards of an hour.

Here are a few short epigrams sent in by a friend—suggest that you cut them out and learn by heart one a day, repeat them often, and then find out that you've let more of life's sunshine into your own existence. For, in the language of James Allen, "you are today where your thoughts have brought you." Here they are:

A fish never gets caught by keeping his mouth shut.

The foolish and dead alone never change their opinions.

If you must use a hammer—build a house.

Today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday—and all is well.

In this world of speed, jazz, politics and taxes, it's glorious there's such a thing as fishin'!

We live expensively to impress others who live expensively to impress us.

Don't complain if your wife doesn't understand you—she may divorce you if she did.

It is expected the new mess hall will be completed this week. Unlike the old structure, the kitchen is located in the center of the building which facilitates serving. The dining room is not to be sealed with celotex—at least not until a later date.

A group of men from this company drove new trucks for the MECW from the Roscommon warehouse to Mackinaw City last week.

Several work projects for this camp located north and west of Grayling have been transferred to the new Camp Kalkaska for completion, the work being near their location. This consists mostly of truck trails and fire line construction.

Devere Benware and Arnold Soderman formerly enrolled here have been re-enrolled as local experienced men.

A class in CCC administration is offered enrollees of this company with instruction by the officers. Paper work in connection with company administration and the regulations will be the chief concern of the group. Lieut. Nielsen instructed the first group Monday night.

The forestry class instructed by Paul Schroeder is planning a field trip to the Hartwick Pines park this week.

A tournament in baseball is being conducted between the several barracks. Horse-shoe pitching and possibly a tennis tournament may be promoted.

There will be a CCC exhibit at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, August 31 to September 9, according to information from District Headquarters. Plans so far include a Michigan state map 12 by 20 feet with a flasher light at each CCC camp site, a model camp with barracks built in a scale of five feet to one inch, exhibits of handicraft work, paintings made by camp artists, pictures, and whatever the technical service may submit.

New Deal Badly Hurt by Ruling That AAA Processing Taxes Are Unconstitutional—Democratic Senators Score Schall of Minnesota.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

TWO to one against the New Deal was the week's score in Federal court decisions. The administration suffered severely. The Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati first held unconstitutional the condemnation of land by the PWA for slum clearance. Then the Circuit Court of Appeals in Boston dealt the AAA a terrific blow by declaring unconstitutional the processing and flour taxes.

Chester Davis

The one favorable decision was by the Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans and was that the sale of cheap electric power by the Tennessee Valley authority was constitutional.

Harold Ickes, who is PWA administrator, said the slum clearance work would be carried on, though necessarily in modified form. But Chester Davis, AAA administrator, openly admitted that "the end of the processing taxes would mean the end of the Agricultural Adjustment administration in all its important aspects." He would not confess that he believed for a minute the Supreme court would confirm the ruling of the court at Boston. He asserted he had expected that decision to be adverse, saying: "That section around Boston is a hotbed of resistance to the processing taxes. Why, it's right up there among all those cotton manufacturers." This was most extraordinary comment from a high government official, but the Appeals court in Boston has not yet cited Davis for contempt.

Most well informed and unbiased persons have never believed the processing taxes would stand up under court test. The Guffey coal bill has some similar features so that those who debate it should read these paragraphs in the Boston decision: "The power of congress to regulate interstate commerce does not authorize it to do so by taxing products either of agriculture or industry before they enter interstate commerce, or otherwise to control their production merely because their production may directly affect interstate commerce. "The issue is not, as the government contended, whether congress can appropriate funds for any purpose deemed by congress in furtherance of the 'general welfare,' but whether congress has any power to control or regulate matters left to the state and lay a special tax for that purpose."

Several hundred suits to enjoin collection of the processing taxes have been filed in Federal courts by processors. If they pay the taxes and the act is held unconstitutional by the Supreme court, they will not be able to recover, under a provision of the pending amendments prohibiting recovery suits against the government.

The New Orleans opinion on the TVA affecting electric utility holders, consumers and prospective consumers, reversed a finding by Judge W. I. Grubb of the northern District court of Alabama.

Judge Grubb enjoined 17 Alabama municipalities from using federal funds to acquire electric power plants, contending that "TVA was engaged in illegal competition with the Alabama Power company."

The Circuit court, conceding that the project was launched primarily as a power supply for manufacturing of munitions in war time, asserted it was within the "province of congress to adopt any reasonable means" to dispose of surplus power not needed in peace time.

THOMAS D. SCHALL, the blind senator from Minnesota, has been one of the sharpest tongued critics of the administration in the senate. Recently he described President Roosevelt as a "megalomaniac," and, though the word was subsequently eliminated from the Record, the Democratic senators were decidedly miffed. So a little later Senators Robinson, Black and Bone found opportunity to tell Schall what they think of him and to demand that he conform to the rules of "decency."

The argument started when Schall had read by a clerk an editorial from a Texas editor, and an address of his own—all critical of the administration. Robinson protested. He asserted "when one whose moral obligations are so great as are those of the senator from Minnesota, it becomes necessary for some one to object." He added Schall "cannot shield himself behind an unfortunate affliction."

The Schall speech said President Roosevelt was imitating Mussolini, and that Ben Cohen, an administration aid and bill drafter, had "assumed the legislative functions usurped by the Executive."

Robinson called Schall the "misrepresentative from Minnesota" and expressed the opinion the senator had "employed" some one to write his speeches.

"It is small business and only could be done by a man of small mentality," said the Arkansas senator.

Replying, Schall said, "If the people knew what was behind this government they would not stand for it a minute."

TWENTY months of apparently futile moves to revitalize the commercial relations between the United States and Russia, and then suddenly Washington announces that the two nations had concluded a one-year trade agreement under which Soviet Republics agreed to increase their American imports by 150 per cent. In return for purchases of $30,000,000 worth of American goods Russia is to be granted wide tariff concessions by the United States.

Russia will buy railroad equipment, machinery for making new automobile models and other products of heavy industry. In addition the Soviets will buy cotton. The railroad equipment is needed badly for modernization of a weak transportation system.

In return Russia expects to sell sausage casings, certain grades of iron ore, manganese, furs and dairy products in large quantities to the United States.

The pact, concluded by the exchange of notes between Ambassador Bullitt in Moscow and Maxim Litvinov, commissar for foreign affairs, provides for no further loans to Russia and makes no mention of the more than $700,000,000 in debts contracted by former Russian governments. It is in line with Secretary Hull's policy of trade agreements. For these two reasons especially it is attacked by many Republicans and not a few Democrats in congress. Senator Pat McCarrren of Nevada was one of the angriest of these gentlemen. He declared Secretary Hull was a "prize diplomatic dupe" and announced that he would demand an immediate modification of the reciprocal tariff act to rescind powers under which Hull is negotiating such treaties. Key Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, also is earnestly opposed to Hull's trade program.

SENATOR J. HAMILTON LEWIS of Illinois, a member of the foreign relations committee, long has urged that Great Britain be persuaded to cede to the United States her island possessions in the Caribbean sea in payment of her war debt. The other day he was moved to bring the subject up again and delivered an interesting speech in the senate. This time he based his proposal upon the "peace offer" of England to cede a portion of her territory in Somaliland to Ethiopia, which in turn would cede certain territory to Italy with a view of averting the impending war between those countries.

The senator also suggested that England surrender all rights she claims to privileges of constructing a Nicaraguan canal, recalling, as a precedent, that England compelled France to yield all claims to territory adjacent to the Suez canal.

The British Islands in the West Indies, the senator said, are both useful as defense and necessary as protection for the United States. They "could be seized in time of war between nations fighting among themselves to possess the Caribbean and Southern seas. They would be used as the backyard of the United States from which supplies could be stored to be used in assault on America."

GEORGE WILLIAM RUSSELL, known to the world of letters as "AE," is dead at Bournemouth, England, at the age of sixty-eight. He was one of the brightest stars of modern Ireland. Though famous especially as a poet, Russell was versatile, being a painter, editor, business man, organizer and one of the founders of the noted Abbey theater in Dublin.

EMPEROR HAILU SELASSIE appeared before the Ethiopian parliament and made an impassioned appeal to his countrymen to fight Italy to the death, declaring he had prepared himself to die in the contest if need be. "Ethiopia knows how to fight to preserve its independence and its sovereignty," he said.

Though the League of Nations council was scheduled to meet for consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel between July 25 and August 2, there were indications that the European nations were about ready to abandon Ethiopia to its fate and that if "The Lion of Judah" doesn't give in completely, Mussolini will be permitted to have his way with him. That probably will mean a long guerrilla warfare the details of which will not be pleasant reading.

SENDING floods of telegrams to senators or representatives for or against pending legislation will not be so effective in the future, as a result of the disclosures before the senate lobby investigators. They heard evidence to the effect that large numbers of telegrams against the utilities bill were sent from Warren, Pa., by an employee of the Associated Gas and Electric system, that the messages were signed with names taken from a city directory and that the originals were destroyed at Warren.

DROPPING all their rebellious indignation, the Democrats of the house did everything the administration wished in considering the social security bill as altered by the senate. The conferees had settled all differences after two weeks of hard work, but one of the amendments they accepted was that permitting private pension systems to function under the measure. The majority members of the house were informed that President Roosevelt was opposed to this, so they refused to accept it. The senate would not permit the elimination of the amendment, so back to conference went the bill.

SENATOR HUEY LONG has the political fate of his chief opponent, Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley of New Orleans, in the palm of his hand. But he is forcing the people of the city to put the mayor out. A majority of Walmesley's followers, tired of the conflict, formally deserted him when the commission council adopted a resolution endorsing recent statements of two commissioners calling for the city to make peace with Long. The mayor, standing almost alone, declined to yield. He told the council he "would not deal with men who have been called 'crooks and thieves' by every member of the commission council."

In a caucus preceding the council session, 13 of Walmesley's 17 ward leaders voted for his resignation "for the good of the city." The mayor told them he was "going to stick to him—h—l to breakfast." Senator Long received a committee of the seceders and said he would call a session of the state legislature to force Walmesley out of office within 24 hours after the "old regulars" obtained approval of a majority of the city's voters for a petition requesting the mayor's removal.

CHARLES TAUSSIG, who had served the administration for two years without official title or position, has been appointed chairman of the advisory committee of the National Youth administration. In announcing the creation of the NYA the President allocated to it $50,000,000 of works-relief funds.

UNOFFICIALLY and informally, the general opinion seems to be that the Wagner labor disputes act is unconstitutional and will be so declared by the United States Supreme court when that tribunal is called on for a decision. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, urges labor leaders to pay no attention to claims that the law is invalid.

"Leading legal authorities of the nation are of the opinion that the act is constitutional in every respect," he wrote, but added in a letter that he expects a court test and that the American Federation of Labor will get "the best legal talent."

Even if the Wagner law is knocked out by the Supreme court, the administration believes it has a plan that will avert at least 90 per cent of the usual number of strikes, walk-outs, lock-outs and other disorders. It is being launched in Toledo, Ohio, and has been called the "Toledo plan" because it was conceived by Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady when he was trying to settle a dispute in that Ohio city.

Here again Green throws a monkeywrench into the machinery. He says the A. F. of L. will not cooperate in promoting the McGrady plan because it provides that the mediation panels would include on the labor side representatives of company unions and of independent and rival unions. Under Green's leadership the policy of the A. F. of L. evidently is all for the federation, or nothing for anyone.

EMPEROR HAILU SELASSIE appeared before the Ethiopian parliament and made an impassioned appeal to his countrymen to fight Italy to the death, declaring he had prepared himself to die in the contest if need be. "Ethiopia knows how to fight to preserve its independence and its sovereignty," he said.

Though the League of Nations council was scheduled to meet for consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel between July 25 and August 2, there were indications that the European nations were about ready to abandon Ethiopia to its fate and that if "The Lion of Judah" doesn't give in completely, Mussolini will be permitted to have his way with him. That probably will mean a long guerrilla warfare the details of which will not be pleasant reading.

SENDING floods of telegrams to senators or representatives for or against pending legislation will not be so effective in the future, as a result of the disclosures before the senate lobby investigators. They heard evidence to the effect that large numbers of telegrams against the utilities bill were sent from Warren, Pa., by an employee of the Associated Gas and Electric system, that the messages were signed with names taken from a city directory and that the originals were destroyed at Warren.

DROPPING all their rebellious indignation, the Democrats of the house did everything the administration wished in considering the social security bill as altered by the senate. The conferees had settled all differences after two weeks of hard work, but one of the amendments they accepted was that permitting private pension systems to function under the measure. The majority members of the house were informed that President Roosevelt was opposed to this, so they refused to accept it. The senate would not permit the elimination of the amendment, so back to conference went the bill.

SENATOR HUEY LONG has the political fate of his chief opponent, Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley of New Orleans, in the palm of his hand. But he is forcing the people of the city to put the mayor out. The mayor, standing almost alone, declined to yield. He told the council he "would not deal with men who have been called 'crooks and thieves' by every member of the commission council."

QUICKER, SAFER STOPS

With Dodge Perfected, Dual-Cylinder Hydraulic Brakes

Just when others are offering their first hydraulic-type brakes, Dodge gives you the extra safety of Perfected, Dual-Cylinder Hydraulic Brakes, pioneered years ago by Dodge and proved in the service of hundreds of thousands of owners.

With 20% more braking surface—fully equalized against skidding or swerving—they get thousands of extra miles from tires and brake linings—give greater operating ease, quicker, surer stops—more safety than ever. Remember, there can be no successful imitation of Dodge brakes—or their safety!—without Dodge experience and manufacturing precision.

Here is a big, smart, 85-mile-per-hour car that actually gives you three to five more miles per gallon of gas than lower-priced cars. And even more astonishing economy of oil. With all its savings, the Dodge "Red Ram" engine gives brilliant new ranges of speed—flashing pick-up—silky silence and ease. Its famous patented floating Power engine mounts another vibration, which racks ordinary cars to pieces.

The final word in protection—the famous Dodge safety all-steel body is known to nearly 3,000,000 Dodge owners.

Only the genius of a manufacturing organization such as Dodge—with such complete facilities, with 20 years of experience in building nearly three million fine vehicles—could create such astounding dollar-for-dollar value!

Wild and Tame Turkeys

The most readily recognized difference between the northern wild turkeys and domestic fowls is the outer band of the tail. Wild turkeys have chestnut bands, while the tame turkeys have a white band.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

DANNY IS GLAD HIS TAIL IS SHORT

MANY, many times, Danny Meadow Mouse had envied his cousin, Whitefoot the Woodmouse. Nibbles the Jumping Mouse, and Nibbles the House Mouse, because of their long tails. It used to seem to him that Old Mother Nature had been very unfair in giving him such a homely, short, stubby tail. If there was any one thing he would have had if he could, it would have been a long tail. The truth is, Danny used to be ashamed of that short tail.

But he isn't any more. No, sir, Danny Meadow Mouse wouldn't have that tail of his any different now if he could. He had learned one of life's great lessons, which is that these things which sometimes seem the best to be desired are the greatest blessings. He learned it that night when he played hide and seek with Buster Bear, deep in the Green Forest.

"Never, never again," thought Danny, "Will I Envy Anyone a Long Tail."

Buster Bear is a very clever fellow. There are few who use their wits as Buster uses him. It didn't take him long to realize that never in the world would he be able to catch Danny Meadow Mouse by simply chasing him round and round the trunk of that tree. As soon as he realized it he stopped to think. Now, while that tree was big, it wasn't so big that Buster couldn't reach quite half way round it, for Buster has a long reach. An idea came to him and his little eyes snapped and he grinned wickedly. "I'll give that Mouse a surprise," thought he.

So Buster stole softly close up to the tree on the other side of which poor little Danny Meadow Mouse crouched wondering what would happen next. Very softly and carefully Buster reached, around the tree with one big paw and brought it down swiftly. And it came down right on the very tip end of Danny's little short tail. Hag that tail been an inch longer, Danny would have been caught. As it was, Buster's paw came down on the tip end only, and when Danny jumped, as of course he did, his tail slipped right out from under. With a pitiful little squeak of fear Danny darted over to another tree and whisked around behind that. Even then, in the midst of his fright, he was thankful to Old Mother Nature for having given him that short tail. Its shortness was all that had saved his life and he knew it. "Never, never again," thought Danny, "Will I Envy anyone a Long Tail. Cousin Whitefoot's tail may be handsomer than mine, but if Cousin Whitefoot had been in my place he would be right in Buster Bear's stomach this very minute, and it would have been all because of his long tail."

Then Danny began to look about him hurriedly in the hope of finding a hiding place, for Buster Bear had seen where Danny had gone and was coming to try that same trick over again.

Install Cleaning, Pressing Equipment

ORIPPS CLEANERS CONSOLIDATED WITH LIETZ, TAILOR

Cleaning and pressing while you wait has become a reality in Grayling since the consolidation of Archie Cripps Dry Cleaning business with Roman Lietz, well known merchant tailoring business. With the installation of the "Band-Box" method of cleaning and Hoffman pressers, one may now hand over his or her garments and wait while they are cleaned and pressed ready for wear.

This is all made possible by the new and improved method of dry cleaning. At considerable expense this firm has installed the Band-Box system into the tailoring shop on Cedar street that has been occupied by Lietz Bros. for over 20 years. By this new method they are able to handle hundreds of garments as easily as they formerly handled a few. And the garments come out spotlessly clean. Those that require pressing are quickly finished on the steam heated Hoffman presser.

Mr. Lietz is the only merchant tailor in business in Grayling and he says that he will continue this business, in which he has made an enviable reputation. Mr. Cripps has been in the dry cleaning business for several years and has a large patronage whom the new firm hope to continue to serve. Mr. Lietz will continue in the shop and Mr. Cripps will look after the deliveries. The new firm will be known as Cripps & Lietz, tailors and dry cleaners.

GREENWOODS ATTEND THE HOMECOMING.

To dear Grayling friends:
Glad to have shared in the Homecoming. It was a happy experience. Grayling is a bright place in our memories.

You are most fortunate in having as pastor of Michelson Memorial Church my very good friend Rev. Edgar Florey. I think Mr. Florey is one of the finest men in the Detroit Conference. You are to be congratulated on having him in your midst.

Cordially your friend,
"The Greenwood."

NOTICE Piano Students

A great opportunity is about to be presented to ambitious young people and children of Grayling and vicinity. Mr. Wendell Westcott of Jackson, Michigan, is interested in opening a Piano Studio for two days a week, starting in September, and blending with the school courses and credits.

He comes highly recommended by his Conservatory and was an all honor student in his profession. Included in his experiences are the following:

Studied organ and piano under F. Dudley Vernor, well known organist and composer of the popular song "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi".

Five years teaching experience in Jackson;
Eight years experience from age of sixteen as church organist, and at present assistant organist of First M. E. Church, Jackson, Michigan.

Six years of piano under Prof. Lewis Richards of the Michigan State Conservatory, graduating in June, 1935.

Member of Phi Kappa Phi, National Honorary Scholastic Fraternity, and Alpha Epsilon Mu, National Honorary Musical Fraternity.

Graduated from M. S. C. Conservatory with high honor (scholastic) and was honored in being chosen as soloist for the Commencement exercises of M. S. C. in June.

He also has had considerable experience in concert and radio work.

It is through the efforts of Mrs. Emil Giegling that this advantage is possible and only a limited number can be cared for in two days each week. Those interested will please make appointments with Mrs. Giegling as soon as possible. The price per lesson will be $1.00 for 40 minute lessons, one each week.

Notice Taxpayers

The following information will interest taxpayers of Crawford county: On all taxes of the year 1932 and previous years paid before Sept. 1st all penalties will be cancelled. Unless one-tenth of the amount or more is paid by that date, land will be offered for sale in May, 1936. On 1933 and 1934 taxes all penalties will be cancelled except for 4% collection fee if paid before Nov. 1st. If interested in saving your property, it is to your benefit to see the County Treasurer.

HARTWICK PINES PARK OFFICIALLY DEDICATED

of the AuSable river traverses the eastern portion of the park and in the south central part are two spring lakes. These waters are a paradise for the fisherman and the park itself is an ideal refuge for game, including deer, partridges and rabbits.

Here is a magnificent heritage for the future generations who will enjoy it. It is gradually approaching that state of natural perfection which existed sixty years ago and which never again shall be allowed to perish.

The address which Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald delivered Friday, at the dedication of the Edward E. Hartwick Pines, follows:

"It is often the duty of men in public life to take part in the unveiling of memorials to worthy citizens. Achievements of their useful lives are memorialized in stately piles of stone or granite or marble, to stand through the ages as a record and as an inspiration for those who follow. It is a beautiful custom, borne of a desire to give full recognition to the good qualities of those whom we love and respect.

"Here, today, we dedicate another kind of memorial, one that is strikingly different.

Living Monument

"We are dedicating a living monument, one that sways with every breeze, and responds gratefully to every touch of Nature, by holding forth to all who may come within its sight, a greater measure of majesty and beauty.

"These virgin pines—80 acres of them—bear no sculptured epitaph, yet they offer a tribute more eloquent than anything which may be carved upon stone. They are as much a part of the State as our limbs are parts of our body. They came into their seedling days at about the same time that Michigan entered its babyhood as a State, one hundred years ago. The State and the pines have grown together, through a century, and today each shows the wonders of progress that can be wrought in the space of 100 years.

"These trees bespeak a glory that once was Michigan's—the glory of noble forests that covered practically all of the State. They stand now as survivors of a commercial slaughter that almost denuded the commonwealth. Their survival should give impetus to the work of reforestation that is now being carried on intensively by the State and by far-sighted lumbering interests. Surrounding this 80 acres of virgin timber are some 8,000 acres of second growth pine, which offers a lesson of equal importance. It shows us what can be done toward rearing another stand of timber in regions where it would prove desirable and profitable, either for lumbering or for recreational purposes. Looking upon these stately survivors, recalling what they offer to the State in beauty and utility, one can not imagine that man will ever again re-enact the tragedy that is told in the story of the slaughter of our trees.

Praises Grayling Pioneers

"It should be noted that, in this Grayling region, were pioneers who did their full share in opening the state to development, and at the same time had a proper regard for the forest treasure that came into their possession. I refer especially to Salling Hanson Company, who were responsible in the first instance for saving these woodland sentinels from the axe.

"I doubt that the state will ever be able to express its full gratitude to the donor of this wilderness park, Mrs. Karen E. Hartwick. She has preserved for us a magnificent heritage. In presenting it to the State, she has done more for the cause of conservation than could be accomplished by floods of campaign leaflets. She has enriched us all by preserving for us a thing of beauty that might easily have gone the way of other forests, were it not for her devotion.

"And, what is perhaps more impressive, more appealing to the heart, is the fact that this good woman, in thus serving her State, has likewise paid tender tribute to the memory of her husband, Major Edward E. Hartwick, citizen and soldier, who died while serving the colors in France. These stalwart trees about us will stand long after we are gone as the monument to the memory of a stalwart man. They suggest the qualities of ruggedness and independence that were his, and which enabled him to do so much for the development of the State and for the defense of the Nation.

"Here is a true Michigan tribute to a true son of Michigan.

"It is a privilege to dedicate this park, with deep gratitude, in the name of the people of our State."

WILL GIVE ANNUAL DANCE.

One of the social affairs always looked forward each year the National Guard are at Camp Grayling is the annual dance given by the 126th Infantry. The one this year is the third annual party and will take place Friday night at the school gymnasium, which will be decorated prettily for the occasion.

The committee in charge of arrangements say they are featuring one of the best bands they have ever had with them of 10 pieces and a soloist. They are that good that they were selected to play at the Governor's ball and they are also playing at all other social affairs at the Officer's Club.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend. The dance is not only for the camp folks but for everybody wishing to come, resorters included.

Previous to the party the band will parade on Michigan avenue.
